ro,

Sassy Michelle Watson and Dunbar Lisa are angels from the past. They murdered Paul Hansen in the school shooting. They can not speak English and they come to Josè for support.

But who is Alex?

This is the Word, the prediction of the day of the Apocalypse; Evening you will sit.

Steve – naughty Steve – seduces girls and then dumps them because they are ugly. Steve's friend, bus driver Adam Johnson, hates politician Tricia Lindley. In general, his life sucks, driving Albany Indians around the country, while their league takes over the country.

The dog is the last creature on the planet, dreaming. All cats are extinct. Laura gathered some people to conspire Albany Indians on the national level.

Billy Slater and Selena Barlach put lots of psychological pressure on Isabella Hollis, the writer, the author, the supporter of Albany Indians.

The rules to follow England will be fixed, and NFL can continue at their Stadium Stearman, on the national level.

Steve cheats on his girlfriends, having sex in the toilet. He has sex with Isabella Hollis and dumps her too.

Isabella Hollis is really threatened, and heartbroken because of Steve. Adam Johnson, the bus driver, hates his life.

Jackie Alison, the lady from medieval ages, re-appears as a ghost. Her servant, Julia Seo, prepares the horses. All the ghosts, as well as all the people, have to be cleared from this planed on the day of the Apocalypse.

Man always creates meaning. But what are we left with if we dissolve language? What happens when we move away from our logocentric consensus? The book of Revelations lost in translation between human speech and machine interpretation.

Composed and performed by:
Ruta Vitkauskaitė (Lithuania), Åsa Nordgren and Michael Idehall.

The exhibition is funded by Göteborgs Stads Kulturnämnd and Konstnärnämnden.
